ACCEPTS BOTH RATES

Great Northern Road Will Not Fight Minnesota Laws.

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW SUIT

Legislature Notified That the Two-
Cent Fare Law and the Commodity
Rate Law Recently Enacted Will Be Observed.

St. Paul, April 20.—The Great Northern railroad has decided to accept the 2-cent passenger fare and the commodity rate schedule passed by the legislature. Inasmuch as the acceptance of the new rates by the Great Northern will mean that the other roads will be compelled to take similar action, it is safe to say that both schedules will be accepted by the roads and the pending suits over the freight rate schedule will be dropped. Both laws go into effect May 1.

The announcement of the action of the Great Northern was made in the state house of representatives just before the close of the session Friday afternoon. Attorney General E. T. Young sent a communication to the house stating that he had unofficial information that there will be no further litigation over rate schedules and that therefore he will not need the $50,000 appropriated by the legislature to provide money for fighting the suits.

The definite announcement of the action of the Great Northern, which will result in a settlement of the entire rate question in the state, was made by Representative L. C. Spooner of Morris, chairman of the railroad committee. Mr. Spooner stated that he was authorized by President Louis W. Hill of the Great Northern to announce to the legislature that the Great Northern will put into effect both the 2-cent passenger fare in this state and the commodity rate schedule enacted by the legislature. President Hill already had given orders to that effect.

There is no doubt that the action of the Great Northern will be followed by similar action by the other roads. It is certain that the other northern roads with which the Great Northern comes into direct competition will be forced to follow suit and it is considered as out of the question that the southern roads will fight the new rates if they are accepted by the northern roads. Mr. Spooner estimates that the new schedules will result in saving the people of Minnesota $5,000,000 a year in transportation, passenger and freight.

BY A LARGE MAJORITY.

Mrs. McLean Elected President of Daughters of the Revolution.

Washington, April 20.—The principal feature of the session of the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was the announcement of the vote taken Thursday for officers for the ensuing two years. Mrs. Donald McLean of New York, president general, was re-elected by a large majority and the entire administration ticket was chosen with her.

A pleasing social function was the reception given by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The guests were received in the blue room and were introduced to the president and Mrs. Roosevelt by Mrs. McLean.

Snow Storm in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., April 20.—A heavy snow storm is in progress in the extreme western section of Kansas. At Lakin the ground is covered with two inches of snow and the fall continues. Telegraph wires are working badly. In Eastern Colorado the storm is also severe.

BANKERS FOUND GUILTY.

Convicted of Conspiracy to Wreck Chicago Institution.

Chicago, April 20.—Former Judge Abner Smith, president of the defunct Bank of America; Gustave F. Sorrow, its cashier, and John V. Pierce, its vice president, were found guilty by a jury of conspiracy to wreck the bank. F. E. Creelman, formerly a millionaire lumber merchant, stockholder in the bank and one of its promoters, was found not guilty. Pierce, because of testimony given on the stand by him, was merely fined. Smith and Sorrow, the jury decided, should be sent to the penitentiary and fined.

Two verdicts were returned by the jury owing to a mistake. The first verdict fixed the term of imprisonment and the amount of the fines. According to law the men must be sentenced under the indeterminate law, so the jurors were sent back to bring back a proper verdict. Two hours later the second verdict was returned without fixing the term of imprisonment in any of the cases.

The Bank of America was opened Dec. 4, 1905, and a receiver was appointed six weeks later. The promoter of the institution was marked by what the state characterized as "high finance." During the trial witnesses testified that the charter for the bank was secured through fraud, it being claimed that the promoters of the institution "kited" checks for the alleged purpose of making it appear that they had sufficient funds to secure the charter. The closing of the bank followed the failure of a lumber company in which Creelman was heavily interested. An investigation of the bank's affairs disclosed much worthless paper, which it was alleged had been put in in payment for bank stock. President Smith was for many years a judge in the Cook county circuit court. During the trial an effort was made to show that he was a victim of circumstances and had been imposed upon by other officials of the bank.

COAL MINERS ON STRIKE

Workmen in British Columbia and Alberta Mines Quit.

Vancouver, B. C., April 20.—Practically all the coal mines in Eastern British Columbia and Alberta are closed. It was rumored that President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America had instructed Vice President Sherman to ask the men to resume work, but Sherman denied this. Then S. S. Lindsey, manager of the Crow's Nest Coal company, gave out a copy of a dispatch he had received from Mitchell, who said definitely that he had ordered Sherman to get the men back to work.

The men have quit work but have not definitely gone on a strike so that they may not be prosecuted under a new government law. Sherman says he will not pay "strike" allowances but a "working" allowance. It is possible that the operators have broken the law in posting notices of a reduction pending the dispute. The Canadian Pacific railway at Fernie has only 190 tons of coal on hand, and that was brought in from Frank, where the miners worked Thursday.

The supply of slack for the coke ovens is almost exhausted and the supply for the smelters will drop off even if the Canadian Pacific railway has enough coal to warrant the moving of it, which is doubtful.

The Canadian Pacific railway has issued notices that none but perishable freight will be handled in Kootenai until the situation is relieved.

The Winnipeg Board of Trade has passed a resolution advocating the use of Chinese laborers to take the places of the 5,000 men who have quit.

TRIES TO END HIS LIFE

Wealthy Philadelphia Merchant
Gashes His Throat.

HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL

Physicians in Attendance, However,
Declare His Chances of Recovery
Are Favorable—Had Been Arrested on Two Charges in New York.

New York, April 20.—Benedict Gimbel, the wealthy Philadelphia merchant who was arrested in this city on the double charge of exerting improper influence over Ivor Clark, a sixteen-year-old boy, and attempted bribery of the county detectives who made the arrest, lies in St. Mary's hospital at Hoboken, N. J., unconscious from wounds believed by the police to have been self-inflicted. It is thought that his injuries will prove fatal.

Bleeding from gashes on his throat and severed arteries in both wrists, Gimbel was found in a room which he had engaged Thursday night at the Palace hotel in Hoboken. He was unconscious from loss of blood when he was removed to the hospital, where an examination of his effects made certain his identity.

Late Thursday night Gimbel was released from the Toms under $6,000 bonds. Where he then went was not known to his friends. He was generally supposed to have been at an uptown hotel, though it was reported that he had returned to his home in Philadelphia. It now appears that immediately following his release Gimbel crossed on a ferry to Hoboken and went to the Palace hotel, registering there as Wilson Helge of Trenton, N. J. He was assigned to a room on the second floor and a half hour later ordered luncheon, which was served in his room. Among the dishes was a glass water pitcher. This was found broken and it is supposed Gimbel's injuries were inflicted by the pieces.

Bleeding From Several Wounds.

Nothing was heard from Gimbel during the night or morning and in the afternoon a chambermaid went to his room. Gimbel was in bed and ordered the maid from the door, saying that he wished to sleep. The girl returned to the room early in the evening and found that the door had been secured from the inside. The lock was forced and Gimbel was discovered on the floor, bleeding from several wounds. He was clad in trousers and undershirt. A trail of blood from the bathroom to the bed indicated that Gimbel had cut himself while in the bathroom and then thrown himself on the bed, from which he later fell unconscious on the floor. Physicians who attended Gimbel at the hotel stopped the bleeding and after his removal to the hospital his wounds were dressed. His condition is said to have improved although it is still critical.

Gimbel's identity was established from papers found in his clothing. These included a check made out in his name, a fire line pass signed by the director of public safety of Philadelphia and a commutation ticket between New York and Philadelphia. Gimbel's effects were taken in charge by the police, who also notified his family.

The wound in Gimbel's throat severed the trachea and is ragged. It narrowly missed the jugular vein. Several members of the Gimbel family, including Benedict Gimbel's wife, have arrived at Hoboken. Mrs. Gimbel went immediately to the hospital, where she remained at the bedside of her husband.

Dr. Jurist, Gimbel's family physician, and Doctors Farr and Foley of Hoboken agree that Benedict Gimbel's condition is favorable to recovery.

Gimbel was to have been given a hearing in court here today. His attorney, Daniel O'Reilly, has stated that Gimbel's defense would have been attempted blackmail.

Secretary Root Talks About Recent Japanese Controversy.

Washington, April 20.—That there was never danger of war between the United States and Japan over the recent controversy regarding the segregation of the Japanese school children in the public schools in San Francisco was made clear by Secretary Root in an address on "the real questions under the Japanese treaty and the San Francisco school board resolution" at the first annual meeting of the American Society of International law, which convened here for a two days' session. State rights, Secretary Root declared, were not involved.

Much of the session was devoted to a discussion of the Drago doctrine, which Former Secretary of State John W. Foster declared was originated by Alexander Hamilton. William Barnes, Sr., of Nantucket, Mass., introduced a resolution asking the secretary to go on record as considering CAUSED A SENSATION.

District Attorney Scored Autoist Who Ran Down an Aged Man.

Kenosha, Wis., April 20.—A sensation was caused here in the circuit court when District Attorney R. H. Baker in arguing against a motion for a new trial for Edward Collier, recently convicted of manslaughter in the killing of William Dreyer by running him down by his automobile, demanded that the court sentence Collier to prison. People had supposed Collier would be let off with a fine.

Baker grilled Collier and his companions, declaring that they had shown no mercy to William Dreyer and that the old man was now buried in a grave far from home and that the grave was a monument to the culpable negligence of these men.

The attorneys for the defendant asked that sentence be suspended until they had time to complete an appeal to the supreme court, declaring that there were many errors in the record.

Collier sat motionless during the argument but he turned pale under the arraignment of the district attorney.

STILL UNDER GUARD.

Abraham Ruef Remains in Custody of Elisor Biggy.

San Francisco, April 16.—For the second time since the trial of Abraham Ruef for extortion has begun Superior Judge Dunne formally disqualified the sheriff and coroner of San Francisco as unfitted by bias, prejudice and personal interest to perform any of the functions of the former's office in connection with this trial, and for the second time appointed and administered the oath to William J. Biggy as elisor. Biggy is now charged not only with the custody of Ruef, whom he keeps under heavy guard in a boardinghouse, but also with the summoning of the jury when it shall have been selected and sworn.

In the course of the proceedings both the defense and the prosecution scored important points under the rulings of Judge Dunne. The prosecution submitted three motions, for the disqualification of Sheriff O'Neil and Coroner Walsh as officials prejudiced in favor of Ruef, for the issuance of a special venire, and for the appointment of an elisor to summon it.

Against these motions the defense objected with much spirit and was sustained by the court on one point. Judge Dunne refused at this time to order a special venire, holding that there appeared no good reason why an ordinary venire should not be summoned from the jury list on which 1,475 names remained.

THE SOUTH'S TRIBUTE

Georgia Erects Bullock Hall at the Jamestown Fair.

PRESIDENT'S MOTHER'S HOME

Mr. Roosevelt to Speak From Steps of the Replica June 10—His Family Connections With Dixie Land and the Confederacy Are Recalled.

"Bullock Hall," the famous landmark which links the name of President Roosevelt with the south, is to be reproduced at the Jamestown exposition. A St. Louis man, John Colligan, is now at Norfolk superintending the construction of the building.

President Roosevelt has frequently expressed himself as being proud of his southern blood and of the part his ancestors and immediate relatives have had in southern history. The reproduction of Bullock Hall, his mother's home, at the Jamestown exposition near Norfolk is material evidence that the south, and especially the state of Georgia, which has the closest claim on him, does not fail to reciprocate this feeling more or less strongly in spite of President Roosevelt's pronounced Republicanism and certain positions he has taken on the negro question, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

On Georgia day, June 10 next, President Roosevelt will speak from the stone steps of Bullock Hall as it will then stand at Jamestown. The stone forming this step was put in place in the old home by President Roosevelt's great-grandfather, Governor Bullock of Georgia, and from it Governor Bullock delivered his speech of acceptance when he was made "president of the Georgia colony," as the position was then called. The original stone has been removed and taken to Jamestown. The remainder of the building is to be a replica of the Georgia home.

President Roosevelt's appeal to the sentiment of the south is not merely the passive fact that his mother and her people lived there, however. The name of Bullock stands for as much in the south as does the name of Roosevelt in New York. It is indelibly linked with the lost cause and associated with one who was in many ways the most daring and picturesque of those who espoused the Confederacy—Captain Raphael Semmes, commander of the famous Alabama.

"One of my uncles was an admiral in the Confederate navy," President Roosevelt has said, "and another fired the last gun fired aboard the Alabama."

Bullock Hall, which is now being erected as the Georgia state building at Jamestown, was the home of President Roosevelt's mother, Miss Martha Bullock, and of the two uncles who served the Confederacy so strikingly and valorously. It was there that Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., the president's father, went as an attendant of Dr. Hildborne West of Philadelphia when that gentleman married Miss Susan Elliott, half-sister of Miss Bullock.

Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., met Miss Bullock on that occasion. The Bullocks were among the proud old southern aristocracy, and for a week preceding and after the wedding ceremonies which made Miss Elliott the wife of Dr. West a gay and brilliant gathering assembled at Bullock Hall.

It was several years afterward, however, before Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., made another visit to Bullock Hall that was as important as his first. During that time his courtship of Martha Bullock had continued, and finally they were married, and thus the Dutch aristocracy of the New York Roosevelts and the Scotch southern aristocracy of the Bullocks were joined. Theodore Roosevelt was a son of this union.

Bullock Hall stands now, as it did then, at Roswell, Cobb county, Ga. It was built, as before stated, by Governor Bullock, and is of the old southern colonial style.

Immense pillars rise in front of the second story, forming a porch on which many people noted in the history of the south have been received. The house itself is large—very large at the time it was built—comprising probably twelve or fourteen rooms.

In surroundings the old house at Roswell represents very well what it did when President Roosevelt's father went there after his bride. One of the bridesmaids still lives adjacent, at Barrington, Maine.

The DISPATCH will be delivered at your door for 40 cents per month.

RIVAL OF RAILROADS

Importance of Proposed Restoration of River Traffic.

FLEET FOR THE MISSOURI.

Great Interest in First Trip Between St. Louis and Kansas City—Picturesque Period Recalled—Revival Is Chiefly For Freight.

The enthusiastic encouragement given by the cities along the Missouri river to plans for the re-establishment of steamboat lines for freight traffic is a promise of revival of one of the most picturesque features of early western life. The course of the immigrant was not all on land. Thousands made much of the westward journey on the double decked stern wheelers that noisily paddled their way up and down the Missouri and other interior rivers. Valuable cargoes of furs and buffalo robes were carried on these boats, and the traffic was a strong rival to early railway lines.

Of late years the steamboats have been abandoned except on the Ohio and Mississippi, where one may yet find a touch of the old time pleasures and the flavor of eighteenth century romance in the troublous passage of the little fleets, says the Independent. But as a factor on the other streams so far as freight is concerned the prestige of the boat lines has vanished. Where over fifty packets ran regularly between St. Louis and Sioux City not one remains. It seems to have been accepted without argument that the railroads were all sufficient for any traffic that might be needed.

Of late the political economists of the west have been studying the railway rate problem and have noted the vast expenditures in the east for canal construction and river improvement to the end that there might be secured a rival for the railroads that would compel a lower rate than would be charged if no competition existed.

It has dawned on them that the western rivers furnish the basis for a remedy, and they have begun in a practical way to bring about the old river traffic, once so important.

A few weeks ago the first steamboat in years made its way from St. Louis to Kansas City. It was received at every landing by crowds, and when it arrived at its destination speeches of welcome and cheers of thousands were its greeting. It was hailed as the beginning of a new era—or the return of an old regime. Plans are being pushed to completion that look to the establishment of a fleet of these steamers for the run between the two cities. Other lines to the farther northwest, with larger fleets to the Gulf, are in prospect. Ship canals are planned, one in particular to connect the Mississippi and the great lakes, all of which means a new method of regulating freight rates for the vast output of the west's granary.

The west is not particularly anxious to see steamer smoke. It promotes steamer lines for the same reason that New York voted for deepening the Erie canal—to bring about water competition. The saving of a few cents per hundred pounds on the grain and beef sent out of the middle west means trips to Europe and automobiles for producers. If the steamboat can bring this about it is exactly the thing for which they are searching.

It is a curious fact that despite the immense sums spent by the federal government on the improvement of our rivers the past two decades have been a period of absolute and relative decline in river shipping. A quarter century ago there were on the western rivers vessels having an aggregate tonnage of 394,048. Last year the corresponding figures were 174,319, less than half. The decline was steady during the period except for a slight rally in the early nineties. The average tonnage last year was only seventy, and but two vessels of over 1,000 were registered as built on the western rivers. To such decline has come the once important feature of the nation's internal transportation.

It is doubtful if ever again shall we see the old time passenger trade that was so great a feature of travel in the sixties. The floating palaces, with their social delights, were pictured in novel and rhyme. The races when negro boys were supposed to be used for weights on the safety valves and when disaster usually closed the contest furnished the motif for many a tale. Charles Dickens found in such a trip many discomforts, to be sure, but others did not.

One may today enjoy a delightful ride up the Mississippi from St. Louis on the freight and passenger steamers, stopping at the busy towns and floating through the beautiful country between, or he may sail away down through "the land of cotton" to New Orleans, securing a rest and a varying panorama of beauty that will do his soul good.

But these are not what the new idea in western transportation means. It is a very utilitarian theory that animates the movement for boat lines. It is presumed to return large financial dividends. As the waterways were evidently meant to be used, it is hoped that the revival of old steamboating days will be satisfactory and profitable. It will add variety and picturesqueness to our internal shipping interests.

Scott—My wife's mother has visited us only once in five years. Mott—That isn't bad. When do you expect her to pay her second visit? Scott—Oh, she hasn't got through her first yet.—New York Telegraph.

DUE TO COLD WEATHER.

Drop Preparation and Development Delayed and Trade Dull.

New York, April 20.—Bradstreet's review of trade says continued cold weather throughout the country delays crop preparation and development, injures fruits, vegetables and cotton and dulls retail trade. Coincidentally orders from and collections by jobbers and wholesalers are affected, but these latter branches of trade feel this relatively less than in other years because they are still very generally pushed to complete deliveries on early orders. In cottons, features are the tendency to mark up quotations of prints, ginghams and sheetings. Water navigation has been prevented from opening up as early as in some other years, but it is noted that the railway traffic situation is easier, cars are becoming more plentiful and the congestion ruling during the past half year is less acute though still affecting deliveries of lumber, coal, cotton and other products. Excluding New York, building is still very active—in excess of a year ago, in fact—and building materials and hardware are in demand. Labor is well employed, strikes are few and wage advances are numerous, but new construction work is reported slowing down as more plentiful supply of unskilled labor at lower prices is indicated.

Des Moines, Ia. April 20.—Jasper Mason, serving a life sentence for murder in 1876, has been released by order of Governor Cummins under permission granted by the legislature and given a conditional pardon. There was some doubt as to his guilt of first degree murder and the legislature said he had been in prison long enough. He has served thirty-one years. Mason murdered one Woods in a heated argument over the Hayes-Tilden issues.

ALCOHOLIC RED TAPE

Law Favoring Denatured Product Bound Hand and Foot.

A FLAT FAILURE UP TO DATE.

Senator Hansbrough Working Hard to Relieve the Pressure—Rules and Regulations Interfere—Amendments Are Not Yet in Force.

Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, author of the denatured alcohol law, is taking advantage of every opportunity to impress on the president the importance of having the treasury department exercise good judgment in the preparation of rules and regulations for the manufacture and sale of the new fuel under the law as amended at the recent session of congress. The act does not go into effect before next September. It is designed to encourage the manufacture of the fuel by farmers, who, it is expected, will club together and engage in making denatured alcohol in much the same way they now cooperate in many sections to conduct creameries.

The original law for the manufacture of denatured alcohol, passed nearly a year ago, is a flat failure, writes a Washington correspondent of the Chicago Evening Post. It developed before it was put into effect that the legislation was so worded as to make it impossible for anybody outside the whisky trust to engage in the making of the fuel. The treasury department added to the uselessness of the legislation by adopting rules and regulations which make it next to impossible for dealers to handle the commodity after the whisky trust has made it.

The internal revenue officer seems to fear that some one may convert a gallon of the denatured article back into the state in which it existed before it was denatured and use it for drinking. This, of course, would be a violation of the laws, and the internal revenue bureau has taken pains to throw restrictions about the sale of the fuel.

Up to this time only small quantities of the denatured product have been on the market, and if there has been any demand for it it is because it is a novelty. The price demanded by dealers in different parts of the country is extortionate.

"I saw the sign 'Denatured Alcohol For Sale' over a drug store front here in Washington the other day," said Senator Hansbrough, "and I asked how much it was a pint. The proprietor answered 20 cents, or $1.60 a gallon. That is outrageous. Twenty or 25 cents a gallon would be a fair price. I am told that dealers all over the country have been asking from 15 to 25 cents a pint for the fuel, and there has been some demand for it at this rate simply because it is a novelty."

The North Dakota senator wishes the president to see to it that when the amended law goes into effect all unnecessary restrictions are removed.

"If denatured alcohol is ever to come into general use," said he, "it must be as free from surveillance after it passes into the hands of the dealers as is gasoline. There is no more reason why its sale should be hedged about by red tape than there is for putting gasoline under guard. I do not know that the internal revenue department is preparing to continue the surveillance, but I wish to make sure if I can that the fuel has a fair show with gasoline. If every man who makes it and every man who sells it is to be under suspicion all the time it will never come into general use."

"Is it easy to convert denatured alcohol back into the natural state and use it for drinking?"

"It is not easy, but it can be done. I do not believe anybody will try to convert a gallon of the stuff back into its natural state. All I am asking is that we may have a fair chance to see what denatured alcohol can do for itself. It is necessary that its manufacture shall be under the eye of the government, but after it has left the warehouse of the distillery it should receive precisely the treatment other fuel receives."

The senator believes the price of denatured alcohol should not be higher than that of gasoline. "The price must come down," said he, "and I believe it will if we can get into the market on the same footing with gasoline. As long as it is to be an outlay and the demand limited the price will stay up."

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN.

Contest for Senator Spooner's Seat Not Yet Decided.

Madison, Wis., April 19.—A deadlock exists in the contest for the seat in the United States senate occasioned by the resignation of Senator John C. Spooner. After the holding of several caucuses by the Republican members of the legislature who are in the majority and the taking of two formal ballots in joint session, there appears to be no sign of an election in the near future. There are ten candidates in the race, five of whom lead with about an equal number of votes. Isaac Stephenson, the wealthy lumberman of Marinette and who has been a staunch supporter of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette both on state and national issues, in Thursday's joint ballot showed a strength of 19 votes, being tied by Congressman John J. Esch of La Crosse. Irvine L. Lenoir of Superior, former speaker of the assembly and also a strong adherent of La Follette, received 18 votes, as did also Congressman H. A. Cooper of Racine. William H. Hatten of New London came next with 15 votes. Emil Baensch of Manitowish and F. C. Wink-

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Consumption causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

ler of Milwaukee, both so-called stalwarts, received 6 and 3 votes respectively with the remaining Republican votes scattering.

While considerable gossip has connected Governor James O. Davidson's name with the contest, he has as yet received no votes. However, some talk is heard of Davidson as a compromise candidate.

KILLED IN THE SENATE

Resolution Ordering Cut in Ore Rates Voted Down.

HOUSE KILLS TROLLEY BILL

Electric Railways Will Not Be Given the Right of Eminent Domain in Cities and Villages—Senate Passes Girls' Training School Bill.

St. Paul, April 20.—The senate killed the house resolution calling upon the railroad and warehouse commission to investigate the rates charged for transporting ore on the iron range railroads and to reduce the rates, suggesting that a cut of 40 per cent was fair. The resolution was called up by Senator H. E. Hanson of Windom, who moved its passage, but a substitute motion by Senator George R. Laybourn of Duluth to indefinitely postpone the resolution was adopted by a vote of 38 to 3. Senators H. E. Hanson, Ole O. Sageng of Dalton and B. E. Sundberg of Kennedy voting in favor of the resolution.

The senate passed the girls' training school bill as it came from the house and the bill now will go to the governor for his signature. An amendment inserting the provision that the school be located in some county in which there is now no state institution was offered by Senator J. W. Wright of Litchfield, but was withdrawn. The bill as it has now passed both houses provides for the location of the girls' training school at some place to be selected by the board of control. The fight on the location of this school has been probably the hardest and most extended of any at this session. The Red Wing people put up a strong fight for the retention of the girls' school in that city, conceding the claim of the Federation of Women's clubs that the boys and girls' school ought to be separated. The ladies were persistent in urging their claim that the two schools should not be located in the same town. The board of control also had recommended the separation of the schools.

Rural School Bill Passed.

On motion of Senator B. E. Sundberg of Kennedy the senate passed under suspension of the rules the house bill which provides for the establishment of township consolidated rural schools. The bill provides for the establishment of not more than five schools each year for the next two years and provides that the districts must have constructed a school house of at least four rooms before receiving any state aid. The appropriation of $1,000 for each school was stricken from the bill and must be cared for in the omnibus appropriation bill.

The bill giving electric railways the right of eminent domain in cities and villages was killed in the house after its friends had tried to amend it so that the right was in some degree limited. They had an amendment attached providing that the right of eminent domain should not be exercised on property abutting on streets where the city or village has granted them the right to use the streets or alleys and where the use of the street or alley is practicable.

The friends of the bill contended that this would do away with the drastic features of the bill, but others contended that it was worse than the bill in its original form, as the street railways could use this as a club to compel a city or village to give them a franchise when they would not do so otherwise.

The vote on the bill was 38 in the affirmative and 59 in the negative.

University Appropriation Cut.

After cutting the university bill 30 per cent and cutting out the ladies' dormitory and the pharmacy and dental building entirely the house passed the bill for the extension of the university campus and the erection of buildings. The amount provided was cut from $1,000,000 to $700,000, of which $250,000 is to be used for a new engineering building and laboratory and the remaining $450,000 for the extension of the campus. The money is to be provided by a special tax levy so that the cost will be spread upon the taxpayers for a term of four years.

The house passed the bill providing for a commission to inquire into the question of adding to the grounds in the immediate vicinity of the capitol and to expend any money that may be appropriated later, if any is appropriated. Efforts were made in the house to have it appear that the bill authorized this commission to incur obligations which might be binding upon future legislatures and compel them to appropriate large sums of money, but it was shown that the commission is absolutely prohibited from making any contracts or incurring any obligations further than the money it has on hand. The bill had a close scrape and came through with only two votes to spare.

Senator Sullivan's bill providing for the collection of statistics by the secretary of state and enlarging that department was summarily killed by the house.

The house passed Senator S. P. Alderman's bill for a new fish hatchery at Deerwood. I. W. Bouck of Royallton moved that the bill be put on its final passage. There was some objection but Mr. Bouck pressed the motion and received the necessary eighty votes to suspend the rules.

COWS MILKED BY MACHINERY.

Washington City Served From the Mechanical Dairy.

Milking cows by machinery is one of the latest inventions to be put to practical use, and, although the method has not been in vogue many months, a dairy farm sending milk to the city of Washington boasts of possessing the innovation.

The farm in question is at Rosecroft, Md., and is less than 1,000 feet from the District line and about two miles south of Congress Heights. Walter R. Powell owns the farm. He exhibited his machine equipped cow stable to a Washington Star reporter, claiming that the machines are a great success. Mr. Powell says that milk taken from the cow by machine is not only free from dirt and bacteria, but the result is more pleasant and comfortable to the animal.

The health officer of the District and District veterinarians, whose duty it is to regularly inspect dairy farms furnishing the local milk supply, say the machine brings the milk from the cow in a condition that is as pure as could be desired. The beauty of the machine, it is pointed out, is that the milk comes in contact with nothing except the rubber tube running to the milk pail. By the ordinary method of milking, the officials explain, milk often becomes infected by contact with the fingers of the persons milking or by dripping from the sides of the animal to the pail or by dripping from some other object before entering the pail.

The mechanism of the "cow milker," as the machine is called, is comparatively simple. The milking is done entirely by compressed air. The machines used by Mr. Powell are about the size of an alarm clock and have rubber cups attached. The machine is placed on top of a six gallon can, which holds the milk as it is drawn from the cow, and the cups are attached to the animal. The milk does not come from the cow in a stream, but is drawn intermittently. The machine is connected by tubes which run along the stalls in the stable to a power house. The power is furnished by a five horsepower gas engine.

Although the machine does not milk a cow any faster than does the ordinary hand process, it accomplishes more in that it can milk two cows at the same time. The cups are an important factor. They are shaped like small funnels and are made of soft rubber. They are also of various sizes. Mr. Powell says that of his forty-eight cows not more than one or two in any way object to the machine.

TEXAS WANTS LADYBUGS.

Millions of Them to Kill the Green Bug Pest of the Wheatfields.

R. T. Miller, Texas state commissioner of agriculture, wants to turn loose millions of ladybugs upon the wheatfields of Texas to kill the green bugs which are destroying that crop.

The legislature was asked to make an appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of gathering vast numbers of the ladybugs together and colonizing them upon the wheat lands. The request was made in all seriousness, but the committee to which the bill was referred looked upon it as a joke, and it was killed, says the New York Sun.

The state has a bug farm in operation at College Station. It is conducted by A. F. Conrad, who has demonstrated to his own satisfaction that the green bug is the natural prey of the ladybug.

The latter is a voracious eater and feasts all day on green bugs without satisfying its appetite. The appearance of the green bug pest every six or seven years is attributed to the fact that the ladybugs, having wiped out their natural prey, starve to death themselves.

When the ladybugs are all gone or greatly reduced in numbers the green bugs begin to multiply with marvelous rapidity, and in a short time they become a pest. They commit their ravages for a year or two until the ladybugs learn about it and increase in numbers sufficiently to destroy them.

If the legislature had made the appropriation asked it was planned by Mr. Conrad to go to some of the east Texas counties, where vast numbers of the ladybugs are found, and gather a few million of them and ship them into the suffering wheat growing region of the state. Mr. Miller says that if the appropriation had been made promptly so that the ladybugs could have been distributed over the wheatfields earlier in the season several million bushels of wheat would have been saved.

It is estimated that the green bugs through their ravages this season will cause a falling off of not less than 8,000,000 bushels of wheat in the yield in Texas. Mr. Conrad thinks he could have gathered enough ladybugs in one county in east Texas to destroy every green bug in the wheat growing region of the state.

Countess Commits Suicide.

Paris, April 17.—The Countess de Jotemps committed suicide by shooting with a revolver in this city. The countess was a Russian, twenty-seven years old, and a woman of beauty. She was married two years ago against the wishes of her parents to the Count de Jotemps. The couple were continually in financial straits.

Signs Plans for Big Battleships.

Washington, April 19.—Secretary Metcalf has signed the plans and specifications for the two 20,000-ton battleships to be built for the United States navy. They are to be of the general type of the Dreadnought of the British navy.

A WAVE OF DISASTER

Sweeps Over Various Sections of the World.

GREAT FIRE IN PHILIPPINES

Iloilo Totally Destroyed and Twenty Thousand Persons Left Homeless. Volcano in Chile Drives People From Their Homes.

Washington, April 20.—Earthquakes in South Carolina, Mexico, the Philippine islands and Algeria, fresh outbreaks of Chilean volcanoes and a disastrous fire in the city of Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, went to make up the principal part of Friday's catastrophes. In addition to this news was received of a typhoon which swept the Ulithia islands on March 29, in which 220 of the 800 natives living in the islands were killed and much damage done.

The greatest suffering from Friday's disasters resulted from the volcanic eruptions and the Iloilo fire, none of the earthquakes being of more than moderate severity. Iloilo was totally destroyed and 20,000 people are left homeless. Destruction of the means of communication prevented the giving out of full reports of the catastrophe.

In the province of Valdivia, Chile, the volcano Parícuti, which has been in eruption for several days, broke out afresh, accompanied by continuous earthquake shocks and subterranean explosions. Showers of hot ashes buried the entire region; the smoke from the volcano, which vomited destruction from half a dozen new craters, cast a pall of absolute darkness over the country, broken only by the light from burning buildings and occasional flames from the death-dealing mouths. The inhabitants fled in terror to whatever shelter they could find; but the greatest suffering is yet to come, for hundreds of cattle have died and many streams on which the populace depended for their supply of drinking water have dried up or disappeared entirely. Terror-stricken people fled in all directions from the scene of devastation and extraordinary relief measures were inaugurated by the government to aid such as could be reached.

STRANGE STORM AT SEA.

Steamer La Provence Undergoes Odd Experience.

New York, April 20.—From midnight Tuesday night until 5 o'clock Wednesday morning the steamer La Provence, which has just arrived in port, passed through a storm which the officers of the ship say has rarely been exceeded in violence on the Atlantic.

At dinner time Tuesday the barometer began to fall rapidly and as midnight approached the ship reached an area where the air was so heavily charged with electricity that the compass became worse than useless. Suddenly a terrific storm swept down on the ship. Great waves broke over the liner's decks, but no rain fell, the night being perfectly clear. After five hours the storm abated as suddenly as it had come. No one was injured.

Captain Alix of the liner believes the strange storm was the result of the same forces which caused the earthquake shocks in Mexico.

SLIGHT SHOCK FELT.

Earthquakes Jars People of South Carolina Cities.

Charleston, S. C., April 20.—A slight earthquake shock was felt in Charleston and Summerville at 3:25 o'clock Friday morning. In the latter place it was said that dishes rattled and ornaments were knocked from the mantles. In Charleston from various points in the city people reported having been awakened by a rumbling followed by three slight wave movements. It lasted about eight seconds according to some reports and was apparently from southwest to northwest.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

Investigation of Charges Against Chicago Police Department.

Chicago, April 20.—The investigation by the civil service commission of charges that the Chicago police department was used as an agency of extortion while Former Chief of Police Collins was at its head was carried on behind closed doors. Eight policemen were examined. After the session Commissioner Powell said that all the witnesses substantiated testimony already given.

The investigation has not been completed.

Election of Senator Unlikely.

Providence, R. I., April 20.—The Rhode Island legislature will adjourn Tuesday next and it appears probable that a United States senator will not be elected at this session. Fifty-eight ballots for senator have failed to result in a choice and it is understood that only one more will be taken before adjournment.

Demented Woman a Suicide.

Boston, April 20.—Miss Mary E. Tomlinson of Concord, N. H., committed suicide here by jumping from a window in an upper story of the Parker House. The woman died in the hotel office a few moments after her leap. It is believed that she was demented.

PATRICK O'CONNOR DIED TODAY

Well Known Resident of Brainerd Died at Sanitarium this Morning

WAS SICK BUT A FEW DAYS

Went to Hospital for Minor Injury and Death was Caused by Gravel

Everyone was surprised this morning to learn of the death of Patrick O'Connor, who resided at 224 North Ninth street. Mr. O'Connor received slight scalp wounds at the shop Sunday and was taken to the sanitarium. These were getting along nicely when he was taken sick with gravel and died this morning about 5 o'clock.

The deceased was about 58 years of age at the time of his death and was born in Guysboro, Interwood, Nova Scotia. He came west when a young man, having lived in Brainerd over thirty years. He was married August 1, 1885, to Miss Anna Christholm, of this city, who survives him. To them were born three children, John, Isabel, and Eunice. He also leaves three sisters living in Boston, one brother out west and one in Guysboro. The bereaved family has the sympathy of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brinkman, of Bemidji, arrived today to attend the funeral, Mrs. Brinkman being a sister of Mrs. O'Connor.

The funeral will take place at St. Francis church Monday morning at 9 o'clock, interment being in Evergreen cemetery.

GOING TO LITTLE FALLS

North Star Base Ball Team Will Play

First Game of Season at Little Falls

Sunday Afternoon

The North Star base ball team has organized for the season and will play its first game at Little Falls tomorrow. The boys are badly handicapped because of lack of grounds. They would be willing to lease the ball park for the season and pay a good rental in advance but Mr. White, the owner will not permit it to be used under any circumstances while owned by him, being determined that if ball is played there the grounds must be purchased and offering them for $1,100. Naturally this is beyond both the purse and the inclination of the ball boys. There will therefore probably be few games played here. There are fair practice grounds here and the boys will probably play all their regular games away from home. The following is the line up of the team which goes to Little Falls tonight:

C—Wilson

P—Drogseth or Bush.

1b—Burns.

2b—Templeton.

3b—Sundberg.

SS—Barron.

Lf—Bennett.

Cf—Bush or Drogseth.

Rf—Ousdahl.

Extras—Parker and Falkenreck.

The boys have a good strong line up and will give a good account of themselves.

Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Christholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am still gaining daily." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by H. P. Dunn & Co., druggists, Brainerd, Minn. 50c.

Board of Health Order

Notice is hereby given to owners of or residents on any property in the City of Brainerd that they are required to remove all accumulations of manure, garbage and other refuse before the 5th day of May 1907, from all alleys or lots under their supervision. Cellars and privy vaults must be thoroughly cleaned.

Any person who allows any accumulation of manure, decayed animal or vegetable matter or other nuisance upon premises in his possession or under his control, beyond above date, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and will be dealt with according to the statute provided.

Dumping of refuse in the streets not allowed.

By order Board of Health.

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore. 25c. at H. P. Dunn & Co., druggists, Brainerd, Minn.

MRS. EMMA THURSTON DEAD

present and we have the best goods obtainable and are pricing them right.

Clothing.

We are showing the nobby 'Collegian' line of young men's clothes this year. They are the nobbiest, best cut and best tailored line on the market today and are made not only to look well but to wear well and to look well until worn out. We show out of one of the handsomest single breasted styles of the Collegian clothes and have them in a variety of single and double breasted sacks all in nobby fits and handsome weaves, and tailored in the best possible manner. If you want something just as nobby as the local tailor can make at much less money call and inspect this line.

Shoes.

Our line of shoes is superb this year. It is headed by the well known Packard Shoe. It is hardly necessary to say more than 'Packard' they are so standard a make. The price is marked plainly on every pair by the manufacturer and you know you are getting your money's worth. We also have a large line of other makes of shoes, rubbers, etc., including a fine assortment of driving and cruising shoes from the best factories in the country.

Gent's Furnishings

In this line we are not to be excelled. Our line of neckties, collars, shirts, both dress and working, are complete. In fact we can take a naked man and dress him from top to toe suitably for any situation from driving on the river to attending a swell reception.

Do not forget to call and see us in our new quarter and inspect our stock whether you wish to buy or not.

CHANGES IN POLICE FORCE

Anticipated Shake-Up Occurs in New York City.

New York, April 20.—The anticipated shake-up in the New York police force has taken place. Commissioner Blagham under the authority of the bill recently passed by the legislature has reappointed ten of the eighteen inspectors; sent eight to the command of precincts and appointed seven captains and one lieutenant as acting inspectors to take their places.

Inspectors McClusky, O'Brien, Cross, McLaughlin, Grant, Murphy, Kane and Weigand are among those who are reduced to captain's commands.

Inspector McClusky is sent to command the Tenderloin precinct where changes of captains have been frequent and for various causes.

Twenty-seven lieutenants were transferred from the detective bureau to act as roundsmen. Their places are filled by officers and patrolmen from the regular police force. All of the detectives attached to the staff of the deposed inspectors were sent to various stations to do patrol duty.

The law under which the changes are made was passed a few days ago and signed by the governor April 16. By the law the rank of inspector is done away with and then recreated. This gave the commissioner the chance to reappoint only such inspectors as he saw fit. Former inspectors will serve as captains with their former captains ranking them as acting inspectors in many instances.

SWEETHEARTS OF LONG AGO

Centenarians Plan to Wed in Tennessee.

St. Louis, April 20.—Announcement has been made that on Aug. 26, next John B. Bundren, who on April 1 was 101 years old, will be united in marriage to Miss Rose McGuire, who is almost 100 years of age. The wedding will take place on Mr. Bundren's estate near Tatesville, Tenn. He has been visiting relatives in St. Louis for several weeks and has just returned to Tennessee. Bundren and Miss McGuire were sweethearts in Tennessee in their youth. Her parents, of English descent, would not consent to their marriage and finally returned to England, taking their daughter with them. Bundren went to California and acquired considerable wealth. He never married. From California he returned to Tennessee and bought his birthplace near Tatesville. He decided to hold a reunion of old friends on his estate this year and sent out numerous invitations. Not long ago he received a letter from Miss McGuire. Correspondence followed and he renewed his offer of marriage and was accepted. The date for the wedding and the reunion of friends has been set for Aug. 26, on the bride's birthday anniversary, when she will be 100 years old.

APPROACHED A VENIREMAN

Idaho Man Wanted to Know How He Stood Regarding Miners' Cases.

Boise, Ida., April 20.—Charged with approaching a member of the panel from which a jury will be selected for the trial of William D. Haywood, which is to begin here before Judge Fremont Wood on May 9, W. N. Yost must appear before Judge Wood Tuesday and answer to a charge of contempt of court. Complaint against Yost was made by Juror J. L. Waggoner, a farmer, who lives near Meridian. Haywood is the first of the trio of officials of the Western Federation of Miners to be called for trial for the assassination of Former Governor Frank Steiensenberg. Juror Waggoner alleges that while he was on his farm April 4 (having been excused from court that day) Yost asked him how he stood in regard to the cases of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone and wished to have Waggoner poll the upper part of White Cross precinct in order to learn the sentiment of the people there. Waggoner says he refused to do so, although Yost, he says, offered him $20 for his services. Judge Wood has excused the jury until the beginning of the Haywood trial.

Dressing Room in an Auto.

The zenith of luxury has almost been reached in automobiles. The newest of all in the auto line in which luxury crowds luxury is an attachment to a magnificent limousine car which a prominent society belle received as a wedding present from her father, says the Philadelphia Press. Apartment would be a more appropriate word than attachment, for the novelty is a tiny boudoir, a boudoirette, as the makers call it, built into the body of the car. The little apartment is really a dressing room. It can be shut off from the rest of the tonneau by sliding panels, and it has barely space for the fair owner and her maid to squeeze inside. Small as the room is wonders can be accomplished therein. The owner when touring can be greatly refreshed from the effects of a long spin by retreating to her boudoirette and submitting herself to the skillful hands of her maid. A fine dressing case swings from the wall, a miniature lavatory occupies a corner, mirrors line the whole interior and the boudoirette is lighted with softly shaded incandescent bulbs. The auto has all the other conveniences known to the wildest flight of the gasoline wagonmaker's art—a buffet, a kitchenette and even a smoking room. What a pity they can't put a shower bath in an auto and bowling alleys on the ocean greyhounds!

FORCES BEING WITHDRAWN

Invading Nicaraguan Army Departing From Honduras.

Washington, April 19.—Senator Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, has received a telegram from President Zelaya stating that the Nicaraguan forces were being withdrawn from Honduran territory. The administration of affairs has been entrusted by the victors to the provisional government of Honduras, and President Zelaya expressed the belief that a permanent peace would result.

Senator Corea's advices confirm the Associated Press dispatches to the effect that peace negotiations are in progress at Amapala between representatives of Nicaragua and Honduras.
